A: How is the APK file? A: An Android package kit (APK for short) is a package file format used by the Android operating system to distribute and install mobile applications. Just like Windows Systems (PC) uses a .exe file to install the software, Android does the same. Q: Why CloudApks.com can guarantee a 100% secure APK? A: Whenever someone wants to download an APK file from CloudApks.com, we check the corresponding APK file on Google Play and allow the user to download it directly (of course we will cache it on their server). If there is no APK file on Google Play, we will search for it in our cache. Q: If I install an APK CloudApks.com, will I be able to update the app from the Play Store? A: Yes, absolutely. The game store installs APKs to download it from Google servers, and sideloadng from a site like CloudApks.com goes through a very similar process, except you do one to download and start installing (sideloading). As soon as the Play Store finds a version of the app newer than the version I've loaded, it will start updating. Q: What are Android application licenses? A: Applications require access to certain systems inside your device. When you install an app, it will be notified of all the permissions necessary to run that program.
